PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1888.

2 O.C. TOCK EXTRA VAIN PROTEST,

Republicans Pass Their Convict

Passett Aqueduct Bill Also Sent to the Governor.

Labor Bill.

Extremely Lively Day in Special Legis. lative Session.

Final Adjournment of the Session at 3.23 P. M.

ALBANY, July 20.-Mr. Fassett this morning introduced in the Senate a bill prepared by the Republican managers providing for a reorganization of the Aqueduct Board. The commission is to be made up, according to its terms, of the Mayor, Comptroller, Commissioner of Public Works and four citizens, two Republicans and two Democrats, to be appointed by the Mayor.

Col. Murphy, in the Senate, and Daniel E. Finn, in the Assembly, had this measure presented.

An Act to amend chapter 337 of the Laws of 1886,

An Act to amend chapter 337 of the Laws of 1886, entitled "An act to amend chapter 490 of the Laws of 1883, entitled: 'An act to provide new reservoire, dams and a new aqueduct, with the appurtenances thereto, for the purpose of supplying the city of New York with an increased supply of pure and wholesome water."

The people of the State of New Fork represented in Senate and Assembly do enate its follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 237, the Laws of 1883, "entitled "An Act to amend chapter 490 of the Laws of 1883, "entitled "An Act to provide new reservoirs, dams and a new aqueduct, with the appurtenances thereto, for the purpose of supplying the city of New York with an increased supply of pure and wholesome water," is amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The Mayor, Compitoller, Commissioner of Public Works and President of the Board of Aldermen of the city of New York, and three competent persons to be appointed within ten days after the passage of this act by the Mayor of the city of New York, are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to carry out the provisions of this act in the manner hereinafter provided for the purpose of supplying said city with an increased supply of pure and wholesome water. They shall be known as the Aqueduct Commissioners.

SEC. 2. Two of said persons, to be appointed by the Mayor of the city of New York, shall be selected from the party which cast at the last general election the greatest number of votes for Governor.

Said Commissioners, other than the Mayor,

Governor.

Said Commissioners, other than the Mayor, Comptroller, Commissioner of Public Works and President of the Board of Aldermen, shall each receive a salary of $5.000 per annum, and they and their successors shall hold no other Federal, State or municipal office, except the office of notary public or commissioner of deeds.

SEC. 3. This sot shall take effect immediately.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

The Hamilton bill differs from that recommended in the Governor's message in that the President of the Board of Aldermen is eliminated from the Board, and instead of three citizens from the rival parties being severally represented they are to be selected by the Msyor.

Col. Murphy's bill corresponds with that suggested by the Governor, except that the Corporation Counsel is substituted for the President of the Board of Aldermen.

The Aqueduct Commission bill introduced by Mr. Hamilton in the Assembly was pre-

The Aqueduct Commission bill introduced by Mr. Hamilton in the Assembly was presented by Chairman Fassett, of the Investigating Committee of the Senate.

It was the product of a council held this morning by the special Republican committee appointed to consider all questions submitted through message by the Governor.

Up to 2 o'clock this morning the Republican programme was to ignore all subjects except that of prisons.

Realizing that should the Aqueduct frauds be left untouched the party might be greatly be left untouched the party might be greatly embarrassed in the campaign, it was agreed by the powers that be to handle the matter at

by the powers that be to handle the matter at least gingerly.

In the direct line of The Evening World's crusade against the bobtail car and in anticipation of a message from the Governor recommending legislation on the subject Assemblyman Connelly has prepared a bill for introduction immediately upon its reception. Here is the bill:

tion. Here is the bill:

AN ACT to promote safety in the operation and management of street railroads in populous cities:

The people of the State of New York represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. I. It shall be the duty of every street railroad company or corporation operating or managing a street railroad in any city of the State having a population of 500,000 or over to provide each of its cars while in use with a competent conductor.

ductor.

SEO, 2. A corporation or company violating this act shall be liable to a penalty of $50 for each offense to be sued for and recovered by the city in which its road is operated.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect Oct. 1, 1888.

Immediately upon the resumption of business in the Assembly this morning Gen. Husted moved that the Prison bill be ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Sheehan begged to know whether opportunities for offering amendments, which might include penitentiaries, &c., as among the State institutions to be affected, would be considered.

the State institutions to be affected, would be considered.

He was shut off by the Speaker's gavel. Despite Mr. Sheehan's protests the bill was railroaded to a third reading by a vote of 65 to 50. Judge Yates, the sponsor for it, voting with the Democrats, against the progression of the bills in its present shape.

Messrs. Sheehan, Blumenthal, Roesch, McCann, Judge Greene and other Democrats arraigned the Republican party for its hypocrisy in refusing to accept the amendments suggested by the laboring men.

The bill was passed by a vote of 114 to 2—Messrs. Crosby and Church.

Mr. Crosby denounced the bill as a scheme of his own party to coddle the labor vote.

After a deal of squabbling, during which Judge Yates and Mr. Sheehan struggled bravely to secure the insortion of amendments which would make the bill apply to every State institution, the latter endeavored to secure the adoption of this:

Resolved, That, owing to the decision of the Resolved, Town the state rates of the samples of the security of the state of the samples of the security of the samples of the samples of the security of the samples of the sample

Resolved, That, owing to the decision of the Re-publican Caucus Committee, the laboring people of the State have been deprived of presenting any amendments to this bill which would perfect the same and make it answer the purposes for which we have been convened by the Executive.

Again the Speaker's gavel prevailed.
The bill was passed upon its final passage.
Gen. Husted, after delivering a stirring speech, moved to adjourn sine die this aftermoon at 2 o'clock. The Republicans voted solidly for the proposition and the Democrats against it.

The Assembly took a recess until 1 o'clock to await the reception of the Aqueduct bill SHE'S AFTER JUSTICE DUFFY.

to await the reception of the Aqueduct bill from the Senate.

Meantime a monkey and parrot time was on in the Senate. Senator Fassett, after introducing his bill, explained its features.

Col. Murphy pressed his bill.

The Republicans ignored him, and the Senate ordered the Fassett bill substituted for his by a party vote of 17 to 10, Senator Stadler being absent.

Senators Fassett and Cantor sparred for half an hour.

Then, after a motion by Senator Linson to add the President of the Board of Aldermen to the Board had been deteated, the bill was passed—26 to 1 (Deane).

Immediately upon the reception of the Prison bill in the Senate, Senator Reilly presented a petition from the Central Labor Union, of New York City, protesting against the passage of the Convict Labor bill now pending.

Senator Reilly supplemented the protest with a speech.

Senator Langbein presented a similar protest from the American Federation of Labor. Senator Cantor wanted to inject an amendment, making the bill apply to every State in the Union, while Col. Murphy suggested another to prevent the transfer of State prison machinery to the reformatories and penitentiaries.

The vote was unanimous, though every prison machinery to the reformatories and penitentiaries.

The vote was unanimous, though every Democrat explained that he indorsed it under protest. After a long political fight the Aqueduct bill was passed in the Assembly without amendment. It now goes to the Governor.

The appearance of the bill created consternation among those who have for years enjoyed a bug share of the patronare.

The appearance of the bill created consternation among those who have for years enjoyed a big share of the patronage.

Editor Platt put on his war paint and howled about a corrupt and dishonest New York press having distorted the facts, and demanded the ousting of the present Commissionars without a hearing.

manded the ousling of the present Commissioners without a hearing.

Mr. Crosby, in opposing an amendment to add the President of the Board of Aldermen to the commission, referred to President Forster as the most contemptible demagogue in the city of New York.

The Prison bill was passed without amendment. It now goes to the Governor.

The "Aqueduct Thirteen" voted against it and ninety-one for it. Among the former and ninety-one for it. Among the former were Editor Platt and Messrs. Blumenthal and Shea, of New York.

After passing the $15,500 appropriation for the State library the Legislature adjourned sine die at 3,23 p. m.

AN EXCURSION STEAMER BURNED.

The Crew of the T. P. Way Fly for Their Lives-The Loss $100,000. The steamer Thomas P. Way, owned by Stevens & Condit and run as an excursion boat to Staten Island and Coney Island, was discovered to be on fire while lying at the Commercial wharf, Newark, at 5 o'clock this Commercial wharf, Newark, at 5 o'clock this morning.

She was towed from the wharf out into the stream and strenuous efforts were made to save her, but they were unavailing and she was burned to the water's edge.

There were no passengers aboard when the fire occurred. Capt. Cameron left the boat with his officers last night in charge of Mate Carleson and the crew of sixteen men.

Mate Carleson was aroused by a choking sensation at about 5 o'clock. He sprang from his bunk and aroused the crew. The men attempted to dress themselves, but the stifling heat and smoke were too much for them and they were compelled to fly for their lives. They jumped into the water half dressed, as they were, and swam ashore. Tee loss on the boat is $100,000, partly covered by insurance.

A HUSBAND ARRESTED.

His Wife's Death Was Suspicious and He Notified No One.

Joseph Halwick, a porter, living at 188 Greene street, whose wife Sarah died last night from a dose of carbolic acid, was taken to the Coroner's coffice for examination this morning.

He said his wife took the acid at 6 o'clock in the presence of her sister and that he did not go for a physician for half an hour.

He did not notify the police or the m		Wisday.

The Closing	Open.		Low.

Canada Southern	DU14 DU14	60	50
Central Pacific	88% 88%	3314	33
Chie., Burl. & Quiner 1	1416 11416	11432	114
Chicago & Northwest 1	110	10975	109
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. P (98 696	69	107
		107	107
	108%	105	105
	24 24	24	24
Col. & Booking Coal	21 21	21	21
	144 .144	7414	-74
	185%	18257	183
Delaware & Hudson 1	185 1135	11236	113
East Tenn., Va. & Ga. 1st pfd.	1012 1012 1012 1012	1042	10
Past Tenn., Va. & Cra. 16t Did.	59 4 69 4 26 26 4	2514	69
E. Tenu., Va. & Ga. 2d pfd	1814 1185	1181	115
Illinois Central	1814 11814	6892
Louisville & Nashville			58
	4614 4614	92
Lake and western bru	1834 8837	88	46) 88
	60 60	60	80
Michigan Central	81 81%	81	81
Minneapolis & St. Louis pfd.	10 10
Minuespous & St. Louis pru	114 17M	7634	77
	79 79	79	79
New Jersey Central	8814 8814	8236	819
New York Central	061 1061	106	106
New York Central	257 4357	424	43
N. Y., Laze Erie & Western	26% 26%	265	26
N V Lake Brie & West old	8012 8012	60	60
N. Y., Lake Krie & West, pfd N. Y., Susq. & Western.	9 9	9	00
N. Y., Busq. & West, pfd	81k 31k	8114	811
Norfolk & Western	18 18	18	18
Norfolk & Western pid	1934 4956	4934	494
Northern Pacific	25% 25%	2534	25
Northern Pacific ofd	2699 2690	004	56
Obto & Mississippl	1014 21	2012	21
Ore. Transcentinental	25% 25%	2532	954
Oragon Short Line	26 26	26	26
Pacific Mail	36%	3614	351
Philadelphia & Reading	51% 62	6152	eii
Paoria Decatur & Evan	21 21	21	21
Pullman Palage Car Co I	61% 16u	161	102
Righ, & West Point Ter	25 25%	2434	25
Rich. & West Point Ter. pfd.	7116	70%	711
St. Paul & Omaha	97 M 187 16	87	87
St. Paul. Minn. & Manitoba., 10	06 107	105	107
	67 0736	67	67
Texas Paoino	2814 2814	28	33
Tenn. Coal & Iron	2812	37%	281
	5634 5634	6632	66
Wabash, St. L. & Pacific pfd	2436 2434	2436	24
Western Umon Telegraph	1854 7854	78%	79

New York Markets.

New York Markets.

Wheat.—December wheat opened at 92%c.—I point above last night's closing quotation. Soon after the opening the quotation advanced to 98%c. Market steady.

COTION.—Market opened firm at a decline of 15 points on near and I point advance on far months. July, 10.60; Aug., 9.65; Sept., 9.77; Oct., 9.59; Nov. and Dec., 9.48; Jan., 9.29; Feb., 6.8; Marca, 9.69; April, 9.17; May., 9.88; June, 9.22 Liverpool barely steady.

COSPRE.—Coffee opened at unchanged prices. July, 11; Aug., 10.80; Sept., 9.80; Oct., 9.65; Nov., 9.60; Dec. and Jan., 9.65; Feb., 9.70; March, 9.70; Ma

Better Than a Hero.

Better Than a Hero.

"What a coward that Major Smith is," said Jones to Robinson. "Why, the very sight of gunpowder would make him ill. How did he ever manage to become an officer in the army's" 'Don't say anything against Smith," answered Robinson, 'he once saved my life. "Saved your life! Noneense, impossible! What do you mean?" "I mean that I was in the first stages of consumption: I was losins strength and vitality every day with the terrible disease, when Smith advised me to take Dr. Pirnor's Golden Mindeal Discovers. I had 'tried all kinds of medicines without success and my physician had given me no hope; yet here I am, as well as ever a man was, and I owe my life to Smith and to the wenderful remedy he recommended."

BREACH-OF-PROMISE SUIT THREATENS

Will He Escape a Pretty Widow He Met at Long Branch-She Save He Promised to Marry Her Before Witnesses-Justice Duffy Admits All but Having Kissed Her,

OUR LITTLE JUDGE.

Patrick Gavan Duffy, Police Justice for nany years, and generally respected by the people, figures in a new rôle to-day. An Evenino World reporter called on him at the Astor House this morning. The reporter's card was returned indorsed "not The reporter wrote "Imperative!" acros its face, and the colored waiter returned with request to the reporter to "come up." The reporter pushed open the door of the room wherein rests the famous dispenser of police-court justice, and beheld His Honor sitting on the edge of his bed in an attitude of humility.

"Oh, you giddy trifler with woman's affections!" said the reporter, fixing his stern eye upon the adjudicator of 15,000 family fights and other disputes a year. "Well, well! What now?" responded the little Judge, feebly. "So you have at last got yourself into scrape? At last you have found a lady who will not be trifled with !" The Judge looked bewildered and crestfallen, and without more ado the reporter read from a Long Branch telegram which stated that Judge Duffy had been threatened by a lady with a breach-of-promise suit, and that his offer of his hand to her had been made before two witnesses. "Well, well, well!" was all the response that the Justice could make, and then he said he wanted to talk politics, and began with something about the alleged defections in the County Democracy.

But the reporter was not to be led astray in this fashion and with all the dramatic ability which he possessed he read this arraignment:

raignment:
Since his arrival at the Branch this season he (Justice Duffy) has met a lady from New York who evidently does not understand how the Judge distributes his favor, for when he poured into her car the oft-told tale and squeezed her hand with a rapture that every lady who ever met the gallant Judge will appreciate, she took it all in solemn earnest, and when, after the manner of Claude Meinotte, he told her in glowings words of the pleasures in store for her when she became Mrs. Duffy, she thought the problem of her future was successfully solved.

"Is that true?" demanded the reporter.

"Is that true?" demanded the reporter, coldly.
"Yes, yes. But"—
"Never mind the buts," returned the re-

por, and then read on:

por, and then read on:

He told her, so she says, that after the change in her nomenciature had been effected she could travel with him for a year; that he would take her, to use his own eloquent expression, to historic England, on whose aristocratic soil no queen or princess had ever trod so worthy of worship as her own charming self. She should visit the far-famed Emerald Isle, whose noted beauties would pake better her loveliness as the stars before the rising sun. She should sail upon the lakes of Killarner, whose azure depths had never before reflected so lovely a picture as her dear face would cast therein. He would take her to Paris, where the elegance of her appointments and the plendor of her wardrobe should make even Mrs. Mackay turn green with envy. green with envy.

green with envy.

"Did you say that to that innocent young heart?" asked the reporter, sternly. "Did you pour that torrent of love's ecstatic eloquence into the ear of that poor girl?"

"Yes, I said all that, but "—

"No buts will do here, MISTER Duffy. The reporter emphasized the "mister" with black-faced capital letters, and the magistrate felt the sting and only ejaculated incoherently as the reporter continued his reading:

reading:

From there she should go through picturesque swizerland, castled Spain and classic Greece. They would visit the Holy Land and together would view the ancient pyramids; they would sail o'er the limpid waters of the blue Mediterranean, where, in the soft glamour of the moonlight, he would whatper in her ear words of such passionate worship that she would feel herself grow goddy with the intextection of love. And when, after the tour of the world had been accomplished and they returned to New York, a brown-stone front should be purchased for her, with furnishings in for a queen, and there she should reign queen of love and beauty so long as they both should live.

"Aye, aye! I did say all that. She is a Aye, aye: 1 did say an that. She is a delightful young widow, and has been in the Sandwich Islands."

The little Judge paused here, as if pondering whether he had better say more. Then he went on hurriedly, as if fearful that he was sering too much he went on hurriedly, as if fearful that he was saying too much.

"She lives in West Thirty-fourth street, She had travelled. Been in the Sandwich Islands, and—well, as an old pedagogue, I had travelled the world over in books by my open fireside, and I could talk about King Kalakaua's islands with her.

"It was delightful! Positively delightful, and I".

and I."—
The Judge rubbed his bump of veneration thoughtfully, rang for a waiter without anowing it, and sighed.
"And you plead guilty to the whole thing!

What mercy can you expect? Hear this: After delivering himself in this costatic fashion the lovesick Judge led her round to the dark side of the Ocean verands, where he pressed many and fervid kiases upon her unresisting lips. And the lady retired to her room happy in the thought that she was beloved.

"By the Lord I never did it!" exclaimed the Judge. Then, in a subdued but passionate tone, he added: "But I'd like to, just the same. She wouldn't let me kiss her!"

"Oh, perfidious man! And now you disclaim having proposed to her, and this wounded heart will sue you for breach of promise."

promise."
"No, she wouldn't do that She knew I was only fooling! She."
"But she told you she would sue you, and you fled from the Branch. Did you think you fled from the Branch. Did you think she was fooling, too?"

I didn't hear her say that! I say we were only fooling." insisted the Judge, when, noticing that a waiter stood deferentially in his doorway, he ejaculated, "Bring me a soda cocktail immediately. Make it strong."

Just how a soda cocktail is strengthened the reporter's bartender's guide does not state, but the waiter disappeared with a grin. Then the little Judge pondered in silence. A silence so intense that it seemed to give him pain. Then he laughed a little and concluded the interview with:

A silence so intense that it seemed to give him pain. Then he laughed a little and concluded the interview with:

"Well, I suppose you will write this up. I don't know what you newspaper fellows would do if you didn't have me to fall back on in hot weather. It's a good story. A good story! I admit that. But it's a joke of some of my friends at the Branch.

"The lady in question is a brilliant lady. A cultivated lady. If I wanted a wife I'd get her if I could. But—oh well! Write it up. I give you her name and address, but don't print it!"

A reporter called at the brown-stone resi-print it:"

A reporter called at the brown-stone residence in Thirty-fourth street indicated by the Judge, but the lady was reported out of town by the maid who answered the bell. She lived there, however, and besides her sc-complishments she has a pretty "dot" in the bank.

Lono Branch, July 20.—The pretty widow to whom Justice Duffy is said to have pro-posed marriage is a brilliant newspaper cor respondent who writes under the name of Margaret Manton.

SUICIDE IN TULLAMORE JAIL.

Dr. Ridley, the Man Who Is Alleged to Have Ill-Treated Mandeville and O'Brien. [SPECIAL CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.]

DUBLIN, July 20 .- Dr. Ridley. the physi ian of Tullamore Prison, who has been attending the inquest into the death of Mr. Mandeville, committed suicide this morning. Dr. Ridley was on duty at Tullamore all the time Editor O'Brien and Mr. Mandeville were confined there, and was held responsible for permitting the ill-treatment which, it is charged, accelerated the death of Mr. Mandeville and impaired the health of Mr. O'Brien.

To Prevent Sunday Drinking in Ireland. [BY CABLE TO THE FRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.] LONDON, July 20.—The committee to exmine into the question of closing all drinkng-places in Ireland on Sunday published their report this morning. They have come to the conclusion that the use of intoxicating liquor should be surrounded by all possible restrictions and be absolutely forbidden on Sunday throughout Ireland.

Russin's Arms Extended to the Emperor. [BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.] ST. PETERSBURG, July 20. - The entire Rus dan press welcome the Emperor William to these shores, and declare their conviction that by this meeting of the Emperors a new ers of peace will be inaugurated. The Imperial visitor is expected to arrive n the city to-day. Business and labor is suspended. The whole city is in holiday attire, immense crowds are gathered on the Nevsky Prospect and other avenues through which the Emperor is expected to pass.

A MOST DESPERATE FIGHT.

Courteen Bloody Rounds Between Tom Allen and Tommy Green.

Tommy Green, of Brooklyn, and Tom Allen, of New York, formerly of the Pacific lope, met in the prize ring early this morning, and after fourteen brutal and desperate rounds Green was declared the winner.

The stakes were $100 a side, and the articles called for a fight to a finish with bare

Only twenty-five persons witnessed the battle, and the purse and stakes amounted in all to $450. The ring was pitched on a dancing pa vilion within a stone's throw from Ruland's Hotel, Rockaway Beach. Green is twenty-five years of age, standing feet 9 inches and weighing 148 pounds. He has been in several notable battles, his last encounter, with Paddy Curtin, ending in a draw after ten rounds. He was seconded by Patsy Doody and Paddy Lee. Allen is thirty years old, 5 feet 10 inches all and 150 pounds in weight. He was looked after by Paddy Curtin and Paddy Lee, of London

After considerable wrangling Johnny Eckhardt was chosen for referee. Steve Brodie and Johnny Golden acted as timekeepers. Dawn was breaking when the men were brought from their quarters, where they had and a refreshing sleep,

At the call for the first round both men stepped lightly over the ropes, and both showed the effects of good training. They shook hands, and in a moment more the battle was on, and blows were falling thick and fast. Green's left landed with ter-rific force on Allen's nose, bringing a stream of blood. Green then swung his right, catching Allen in the stomach. Allen made p ay with his fists, and sent them on Green's face and body, but the blows were light and had little effect. Green sent Allen reeling against the spectators, and striking out again with his left once more landed on Allen's stoward.

against the spectators, and striking out again with his left once more landed on Allen's stomach.

Allen made a pass, but missed and almost fell on his face. Before he could recover Green caught him with a short arm blow in the neck and Allen now went down on his hands and knees to avoid punishment.

Second Round—The men came together with a rush, Green getting in a good blow on Allen's neck. Tom got home with his left on Green's stomach. The men then clinched and on being separated sparred for wind. Both were becoming weak from hard fighting and their faces were red and swollen. Green closed the round by sending his left on Allen's neck twice in succession.

Bounds three to seven were marked by the same hard fighting. Green sending in the most blows and doing the best fighting.

Allen returned some of the blows and they showed up on Green's face, the left eye being almost closed.

almost closed.

Rounds Eight to Eleven—Green got in good work at short arm. Allen played for Green's wounded optic and soon had it closed. Green got in a hummer on Allen's nose that started the blood afresh and some of the timid spectors left the ring side, as they could not stand the sight.

The call of time saved Allen from being knocked out.
Rounds Twelve and Thirteen—Allen appeared very weak and showed the signs of hard punishment. Green got home on the head and stomach and with one blow knocked Allen under the ropes. Tom got up only to be knocked down once more.
The call of time saved Allen for one more round, but that was a brief one. Allen was so weak that he could not defend himself, but he took his dose like a maior.
At last Green saw an opening and swung

At last Green saw an opening and swung his left. It landed on Allen's neck and the man fell in the centre of the ring an apparently lifeless mass.

The time of the battle was 55m. 25s.

Accidentally Shot by a Circus Employer.

ispecial to the evening world.)
Boston, July 20.—George Beamis, ten years of age, was playing near Sullivan & Doris's circus this morning, when he was accidentally shot by Charles Donovan, one of the circus employees. Donovan was cleaning his revolver. The bullet entered the boy's groin and the wound will prob-ably prove fatal. Donovan was arrested. Seven Men Killed by a Botler Explosion.

Convoy exploded this morning, instantly killing seven men, all of whom belonged to the boat's 1418 Bubies Die of Summer Complaints Such was the record for last July. Dr. Alexander's Choices Infantum Cure will cure every case or money returned. Alexander's Cholera Morbus Cure for adults

NEWARK'S CREW VICTORIOUS EXCITING RACE ON THE SUSQUEHANNA

THIS MORNING.

Event, Beaten by the New Jersey Boys-Charges of Crookedness Against Oars man Goepfert, of the Metropolitans-He Leaves Sunbury for New York.

SUNBURY RIVER BANK, July 20 .- This was in ideal day for boat-racing. The water of the Susquehanna was as smooth as any millpond. There was no breeze to speak of affoat, and a bright sunshine kept the 15,000 spectators in good humor. The morning programme was opened with the final heat of the junior singles. There were four starters-G. A. Strickland and M. Shea, of the Don Amateur Rowing Club, Shea, of the Don Amateur Rowing Club, Toronto; W. J. Gugerty, of the Cohoes Club, of Cohoes, N. Y., and H. H. Seaton, of the Excelsior Club, Paterson, N. J.

It was a good race from beginning to end. Gugerty held the lead for half a mile, then Shea went to the fore, and was never headed, winning by a length, in 10m. 00% s. His club mate, Strickland, was second and Seaton third.

The Convell University crow, which do third.

The Cornell University crew, which defeated the University of Pennsylvania for the Dunning Cup on the Schuylkill Independence Day, withdrew their entry from the four-cared senior shell contest at the national regatta here to-day.

Chas. Courtney, their trainer, stated in explanation that two members of the overplanation that two members of the crew McComb and Doller, were very sick and un planation that two members of the crew, McComb and Doller, were very sick and unable to row.

The general impression here is that the boys were fearful of defeat, the Toronto club being considered a sure victor.

Wm. Goepfert, the Harlem carsman and the bow man of the Metropolitan Boat Club double, ran away to New York this morning. His partner, James Pilkington, the stroke of the crew, ascertained yesterday that Goepfert had a big sum of money out against the clubs chances, and he openly accused the little carsman of trying to sell out the race, to win which they had only to start.

Goepfert, of course, denied that he was engaged in any crooked scheme, but Pilking-ton thought the proof was too strong, and he gave Goepfert a great mouth-shaking.

Goepfert then ran away and Pilkington had to replace him with C. G. Johnston, the substitute.

substitute.

Pilkington says he will bring charges against Geepfert before the national body.

In the final heat for the senior single championship, Dennis Donahue, of Hamilton, Ont.; C. G. Psotta, of Cornell College, and J. J. Ryan, of Toronto, faced the starters. Psotta won after a lively finish in 9.55. Donahue was second. ue was second.
Sunbury River Bank, July 20.—The fourth

SUNBURY RIVER BANK, July 20.—The fourth race was the senior four oar. The following came to the line: Potomac Boat Club, Washington, D. C.: Toronto Rowing Club, Toronto, Can.: Passaic Boat Club, Newark, N. J.: Bylvan Boat Club, Moline, Ill.—All took the water together, but the favorites in the betting, the Canadians, soon shoved ahead, and at the half mile had a length's lead on the Sylvans, second, and Passaic third.

Passaic third.
At the mile Passaic was ahead by a few feet and Toronto in second position. Passaic won by a length, in 8.47½, Toronto second and Sylvan third.
The personnel of the winning crew was:
J. H. Crambery, bow: Fred Freeman, 2; Charles A. Lunjack, 3, and M. L. Quigley, stroke. saic third.

stroke.
A pot of gold changed hands on the result.
After the four-oared struggle came the race for double sculls. The starters were:
Nonpareil Rowing Club, New York—
George Delany, bow; Harry Swinger, stroke, Metropolitan Bowing Club, New York—C.
G. Johnson, bow; James Pilkington, stroke,
Don Amateur Rowing Club, Toronto,
Canada—T. Delaney, bow; A. F. Robertson,
stroke,

The Mets sold first choice in the pools, Toronto second and Nonparell third. The Torontos took the ead at the start. but soon gave way to the Nonpariels. At the mile the Nons fell back to second place, the Torontos going ahead. The Canadians won by two lengths in 9m. 20s. Nonpariels second, six lengths ahead of the Mets.

ond, six lengths anead of the Mets. Two The last race of the day was in eights. Two crews started as follows:

Crescent Boat Club, Philadelphia, and the Fairmount Rowing Association, Philadelphia, Fairmount won by three-quarters of a length, after a fine struggle, in 8m. 32%s. News of the Chicago Dynamiters-(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
CHICAGO, July 20. —Goding, the last of the "Q" lynamiters to be balled, was rearrested on his release this morning. The story of Hoge being in the employ of Pinkerton was printed here this morning, but the Brotherhood men laugh at the doea, Bonfield's dynamite plot has completely flattened out, and all the men are at liberty, with small chances of their cases ever being tried. Their bonds are signed by leading and respectable Bohemians. Eastern Club Yachts in a Pos ommodore Weld to Commodore Gerry, of yacht Electra, now in this harbor, states that the remain-der of the Eastern fleet are waiting at North Haven, about thirty miles from here, for the fog to lift. Two yachts of the fleet arrived yesterday Stabbed Through the Heart.

SAR HARBOR, Me., July 20.—A despatch from ran was found in a vacant lot in South Boston this morning, stabled through the heart with a knife. The police are making an investigation. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) YONKERS, July 20. - The following are the entries

[SPECIAL TO THE STERIES WORLD,] BOSTON, July 20.—The lifeless body of John Cur-at Yonkers for Saturday, July 21: Second Race, half furiougs, HOT SHOT FOR THE JUGGERNAUT. The Evening World " Invokes the Aid of the Law Against the Bobtails.

CHIEF JUSTICE M. W. FULLER.

His Namination Confirmed By the Senator This Afternoon. SEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The nomination of Melville W. Fuller, of Illinois, to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, was confirmed by the Senste in executive session this afternoon.

It is stated that the vote stood 41 to 20 for confirmation.

A Rumored Advance in Cable Rates. It was stated at the office of the Commermercial Cable Company this afternoon that they had entered into an argument with the Western Union Company to advance cable rates to 25 cents.

ELI PERKINS'S YELLOW DOG.

It's Lost, and, as It Used To Howl at Its Owner's Jokes, $20 Reward is Offered. OST-Little reliow Italian hound; curiy tail; named Gip; liberal reward. Eli Perkins, 44 E. 76th st.

To those acquainted with the facility with which Mr. Perkins's humor can glide away from a fact, the above "ad" offered only the dimmest idea of what that genial person had lost.

Facts are things on which Eli relies again and again. So an Evening Wolld man travelled up to Mr. Perkins's abode to find out how many other twists there were in the tale of the yellow dog.

Mr. Perkins welcomed the reporter with a generous smile, and inquiry was at once instituted.

instituted.

"Oh, yes," said Eli, "he was an interesting dog. Do you know that is the first bit of under-glaze done in the country?"

Following Mr. Perkins's eye, the reporter saw that it rested on a piece of fictile leprosy which stood in the corner. The humorist then button-holed the reporter and let him into the whole history of ceramics, in which a terra-cotta pug with a scenaful curl in his tail, lurking in the fireplace, took a stolid interest.

tail, lurking in the freplace, took a stolid interest.

"But the yeller dorg?" said the reporter, after an hour and a half of uninterrupted pottering outside that subject by Mr. Perkins.

"Oh, the dog. There is not anything remarkable about the dog," said Eli, "only my little girl was all broken up about it.

"She likes a live dog," he continued, with a glance at the terra-cotta pug. "I took the dog out on the steps yesterday and forgot him, so he strayed. He hadn't his collar on. him, so he strayed. He hadn't his collar on. Probably somebody may have felt justified in collaring him on that account. "The little girl straggled out last night, when she knew he was gone, and wandered all over the upper part of the city, asking every boy she met if he had seen the dog and promis-ing him a nickel if he would return him. 'They all said they would return him, papa,' she told me.

'No, there was nothing remarkable about the dog. Italian greyhounds are large, slim, slate-colored, have a straight tail and are slate-colored, have a straight tail and are good for nothing except to hang around and look slender.

"This dog was short, had a regular tendril for a tail, was pure lemon-colored yellow, would rat like a terrier. So you see why he is an Italian greyhound. I would give $20 for his return."

Outside facts gathered about the dog show that he would howl whenever Mr. Perkins absent-mindedly read a joke out of one of his books, such was his keen sense of justice and Mr. Perkins's humor.

He was also a trick dog, for he could eat fourteen times a day and keep his girth at a normal measure.

This was his only trick, because ratting came to him by right of birth, his Italian mother having been frightened by a Scotch terrier.

Mr. Perkins will be glad to have Gip returned, and no questions asked.

Foul Murder Suspected. The wife of Mr. Washington Noac, a well-to-de farmer of Resacs, Warren County, was found dead in a field near her home at Belvidere yesterday morning, with her throat cut from ear to ear. The fact of a rasor being clutched by the fingers of one hand does not entirely satisfy the neighbors that foul play has not occurred.

Mrs. None lost her only son three weeks ago.

> Fair and Cooler Weather WASHINGTON, July 20 .-Weather indications: For Connecticut and Eastern New York -Fair, preceded by rain on the coast; slightly cooler, followed on Saturday by

Standing of the Clubs This Morning

Per 642 St. Louis 642 Cheenata 642 Louis 642 Cheenata Bathing Trunks and Suits

LEAGUE.

O'CLOCK BIGGER GAME.

PRICE ONE CENT.

The Navy-Yard Bomb Will Surely Bring It Down.

No Fear That the Explosion Has Come Too Soon.

Prisoner Laird Has Closed His Lately Threatening Mouth, but Marshal Stafford Says the Evidence Is All on Hand-More Arrests Expected To-Day-The Views and Action of h Former Employer Who Believes Mars Is Honort

Startling developments are promised in the Brooklyn Navy-Yard conspiracy case, which was made public by the arrest in Brooklyn Wednesday night of Daniel Laird, of New Lots, who was Superintendent of Mills and Receiver of Provisions up to ten days ago.

For some time it has been known to the Navy Department that there was an arrangement between certain officials and contractors for supplies, by which the Government was compelled to pay more than the market The system was almost perfect, and the onspirators succeed in covering their tracks well. It was not until a firm of unsuccessful bidders to furnish 5,000 pounds of tae—Francis H. Leggett & Co., of this city—investigated and found that their failure to get the contract lay in the fact that they were shown a higher grade sample than the tea actually furnished, that the department secured tangible evidence.

cured tangible evidence.

Laird was the official who furnished the samples, and John G. Mars, of 527 Jersey avenue, Jersey City, the successful bidder.

avenue, Jersey City, the successful bidder. Both men were arrested.

Mars, who was apprehended last night, gave bail in the sum of $2,500, after being arraigned before United States Commissioner Morle, in Brooklyn.

He was closeted with United States District. Attorney M. D. Wilber for about four hours last night, and it is said that the result of that interview was the implication of others much higher in authority at the Navy-Yard than was Laird.

District. Attorney Wilber, when seen by an Evening World Terretter, this morning, said:

and:
"Pm afraid that the Navy Department has fired its gun almost too soon, and that some of those who are most guilty have been given an opportunity to put their houses in order.
"There is much bigger game than Laird to be caught, but I am unprepared to state who be caught, but I am unprepared to state who is suspected.

"Laird could tell a great deal if he wanted to, but I think that he will conclude it is his policy to keep his mouth closed.

"He made great threats of implicating his superiors when he was arrested, but he's been more silent on this subject since he has been in jail.

"I don't know why Laird doesn't get bail. He has sufficient property in New Lots to indorse his own bond. In fact, he is quite wealthy."

The fact of his wealth is a suspicious circumstance in Laird's case, for he is said to have acquired all his property since his employment by the Government, and to have purchased it improved.

Mr. Wilber said the Government's loss in this particular transaction in tea amounts to this particular transaction in tea amounts to very little, but the department, which has been working on the case through Paymaster Robert W. Allem and Special Agent J. Monroe Heiskell, has obtained evidence of other similar trans-and Special Agent J. Monroe Heiskell, has obtained evidence of other similar transactions by which the ring of conspiring officials and contractors has defrauded the Government.

United States Marshal Charles M. Stafford said that there need be no fear that the ends of justice will be defeated by premature action on the part of his office.

All of the evidence necessary to implicate all the guilty parties had been obtained before the arrest of Laird. He said:

"Paymaster Allen and Mr. Heisler are still at work, and I expect more arrests to be made this afternoon. Bigger game than Laird will be captured."

Marshal Stafford could give no idea of the number of people involved or the amount of money out of which the Government had been swindled by their operations, but he said they had been working their game for years.

Mr. M. A. Bronson manager of D. H. Ho.

said they had been working wars.

Mr. M. A. Bronson, manager of D. H. Hotaling's wholesale tea house, at 142 Front street, explained to an Evening Working Porter that Mars's dealings with the Navy-Yard have been individual, and not as representing his firm, as at first reported.

"Mars has not been employed here for sixteen years," he said. "He worked here for a year seventeen years ago, and since he left a year seventeen years ago, and since he left. teen years," he said. "He worked here for a year seventeen years ago, and since he left he has been one of our regular customers. I have always considered him honest and do not now believe that he is guilty of the conspiracy with which he is charged.
"In December last Mars came to me and said he was going to put in a bid for the supply of tea at the Brooklyn Navy-lard. He said he wanted our lowest figures, and we gave them to him.

Mr. Bronson learned last week that there was a suspicion of something wrong regard-ing the tea contract, and he immediately went to Washington and explained his posi-tion and that of Mars to Paymaster-General Fulton.

When Mars learned that he was suspected

When Mars learned that he was suspected of being implicated in a conspiracy to defraud the Government he had Laird swear before a notary public to an affidavit stating that he (Laird) did not show Mars any amples of tea for the last contract, but said the tea wanted was just like the kind first sold him by Mars.

said he wanted our lowest figures, and we gave them to him.

"He put in his bid, it was accepted and he delivered 3,000 pounds of Colong tes to the Navy-Yard, which he bought of me. He charged 24 cents a pound for it.

"Last month he came again and said he must have a little lower price from us and I made it to him. He put in his bid at 23 cents a pound for 5,000 pounds. The tea was delivered to the Navy-Yard by one of our trucks, I believe, and Mars has never bean paid for it. trucks, I believe, and Mars has never been paid for it.

"The tea is what we call medium family tea. It is Oolong. The best grade is worth about 75 cents and the poorest 17 or 18 cents. I know that the tea is the same kind as was furnished in December, and that Mars was not shown a sample of the kind the Navy-Yard wanied the last time.

"I went on his bond for the performance of the contract, because I deemed him honest. If there is any conspiracy regarding this tea deal, it lies between Mars and Laird." stationary temperature;